CONDITIONAL APPROVAL FOR DE NOVOS

For de novo institutions, the following two membership requirements may not be met initially. Therefore, membership approval will be "conditional" until these two requirements have been met.

1. 10% Test: Community Financial Institutions (CFIs) are exempt from this requirement. A CFI is a bank or thrift whose deposits are FDIC-insured and whose assets, averaged over the previous 3 years, are under $500 million.

For institutions that are not CFIs:

Within one year of commencement of initial operations, at least 10% of the institution's total assets must consist of residential mortgage loans. This calculation is based on the institution's most recent call report following the one-year anniversary of commencement of operations. The most common types of assets qualifying as "residential mortgage loans" are:

- First or second liens on one- to four-family or multifamily property
- Home equity loans
- Funded residential construction loans
- Mortgage backed securities
- Mortgage debt securities such as CMOs

2. For all de novo institutions

The institution has received a CRA rating of "Satisfactory" or better on its first CRA performance evaluation.

During the period of "conditional" membership, the de novo institution has the same rights and obligations as any other member.

If the above two requirements can be satisfied when your membership application is approved, approval will not be "conditional."

If you have any questions about this conditional approval, please call the Membership Applications Department at 800.536.9650 Ext. 8011 or 404.888.8011.
