

OVERVIEW

- The Federal Home Loan Bank System was created in 1932 by the Federal Home Loan Bank Act. Today's FHLBank System consists of eleven regional banks with over $900 billion in total assets and roughly 6,500 members.
- FHLBanks are a system of cooperative banks offering competitively priced financing, community development grants, and other banking services to help member financial institutions make affordable home mortgages and provide economic development credit and financial services to neighborhoods and communities.
- The FHLBanks obtain funding by selling bonds in the global debt markets, issuing debt on a combined basis through the Office of Finance, which is based in Reston, Virginia.
- Each FHLBank is jointly and several liable for the FHLBanks' consolidated debt obligations.
- The Bank provides its members a reliable source of same-day, low-cost funding and contingent liquidity.
- A recent article from Dayin Zhang at the University of Wisconsin discusses how the FHLBanks save borrowers money and level the playing field for small banks
